THE GLENDALE NEWS

DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

VOL. IV. GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1908. No. 12

IN THE POLITICAL WORLD

Primaries Will be Held August 11th, County Convention of the Republicans August 18th—A Strenuous Contest Between the Regulars and the Lincoln-Roosevelters Promised

The call for the Republican County convention to nominate assemblymen in all the districts, senators in the odd numbered senatorial districts (which does not include this, the 34th), supervisors to succeed Patterson, Wilson and Alexander, judges in three or four of the departments, and the various minor offices in the townships, has been issued by the county committee, naming August 18th as the date to convene in Los Angeles. The number of delegates will be 881, based on the allowing of one delegate for every 25 votes east for Gillette for governor. In Los Angeles and Pasadena the primary election polls will be kept open all day, but in the country outside, from 1 to 8 p. m., August 11th. Caucuses to name tickets to be voted at the primaries will be held at 8 p. m., July 31. Heretofore it has been customary not to have caucuses held more than a week before the convention; the extending of the time intervening to a fortnight will result in two weeks of the liveliest wire pulling that has ever been known in the county. There is a big fight on between the regulars and the Lincoln-Roosevelters to control the convention. Both sides are doing hard and systematic work and the result cannot be predicted with any certainty, each side being assured of success. One thing is very apparent, and that is that Walter Parker as a political boss has lost much prestige since the Venice convention of two years ago when his work was not characterized by that finesse and smoothness which he was once noted for. There was a time when Parker had an enviable reputation for keeping his word, but the Venice convention made a rift in the lute through which the breezes blow, and Walter's word does not go as far as it once did. The unexpected strength of the Lincoln-Roosevelters as displayed in the contest for delegates to the State convetnion, when they elected a majority of them in the districts where primaries were held, jolted the regulars nearly out of the saddle. They picked themselves up with commendable alacrity, however, and are now making the fight of their lives, determining not to be caught off guard again. Many additions will come to the ranks of the insurgents from that class of voters who always like to pick a winner and are able to see the advisability of lining up with the new organization. The principal fights will be for the control of the legislature and the board of supervisors. In this district the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League is backing up Mr. Cattell of Pasadena and Mr. R. W. Pridham of South Pasadena for the assembly and supervisor respectively. Both have excellent records and will make a strong fight. Dr. George Case, of Pasadena, the present incumbent, made a good record in the last assembly and will probably be nominated by the regular organization. Mr. Patterson is very generally opposed on his record as supervisor and certainly has a hard fight on hand. In Mr. Pridham the Lincoln Roosevelters have been fortunate in getting behind an exceptionally strong candidate, one who has not sought the office, but yielded to strong pressure to induce him to stand for the position. The names of six candidates were presented to the league and his fitness and strength were so apparent that with one or two minor exceptions, the others withdrew in his favor.

On July 20th, 1 to 7 p. m., (Monday next) a primary election will be held to select delegates for the congressional convention to be held at Long Beach on August 15th. After the first named date the fight will get warm between the present incumbent, Hon. James McLachlan, and the candidate of the League, who will possibly be Mr. Lee Gates. Then there is the Good Roads election scheduled for July 30th. Every voter so far heard from is going to support this project and it will carry by so big a majority that everybody can enter into the other contests in a good-humored spirit.

RAILWAY CONTEST ON AT GLENDALE

Citizens Are Divided as to Route for Prospective Burbank Extension.

GLENDALE, July 11.—A merry race for a railroad right of way to Burbank is now on. Dr. Wallace H. Spinks, who recently came from Los Angeles to occupy the McNiven ranch on Kenneth road, is at the head of an active movement to offer land and a cash bonus for a foothill road. A large amount of real estate has been sold in West Glendale and along the San Fernando road on the strength of a line out Pacific avenue.

It has now developed into a race as to who will be able to make the most advantageous offer to the Pacific Electric Company. Interested with Dr. Spinks in the northern route are L. C. Brand, Dan Campbell, D. H. McNiven and a majority of the property owners on Kenneth road.

On the other hand there are several hundred owners of fifty-foot lots in the Glendale Valley View tract who have been building on the assumption that they were to have an electric line to Burbank through their subdivision.

Dr. Spinks has the advantage of a sixty horsepower motor, which he is driving along the valley for the benefit of the foothill route. He is already approaching the point where he will be able to meet the proposition of Mr. Huntington and the Casa Verdugo extension which was once abandoned may soon be built.

The above, headlines and all, is from last Sunday's Examiner, and may well be classed among the "important if true" items.

ST. MARK'S GUILD ENTERTAINS.

Quite the prettiest and most successful of social affairs was that given on Saturday evening on the spacious grounds surrounding the home of Mrs. William Rogers Penn, on Adams street. The affair was in the capable hands of members of St. Mark's Episcopal Guild.

The grounds were gaily and artistically illuminated by lights disposed among the vines and trees. Charming attractions were various booths, provided with an abundance of candies, ice cream and cakes; and the "lanais," with lights half-hidden in blossoms, were enchanted bowers where the thirsty partook of punch and wafers.

Guests of almost any nationality could feel welcome, for there was displayed the flags of many nations, with Old Glory predominating.

The fish pond provided, perhaps, the most amusement, unless it was the knowing dog who trotted about with a collection box tied to his neck with a pert satin ribbon.

The tables were, possibly, as thoroughly artistic and as beautiful as any ever used locally for a public occasion. Rare china, cut glass and proper silver were used, and the snowy damasks were further graced with fragrant blossoms. The entire affair proved an occasion of great delight and as such will long be remembered. The ladies were pleased to find they had made about fifty dollars, which they felt, with thankful hearts, amply repaid them for their thought and loving labors.

Mrs. Lucien Small left Thursday for Fillmore to join her husband and spend her vacation.

VENICE CHAUTAUQUA.

Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club on Tuesday attended the Chautauqua assembly at Venice, leaving Glendale very early in order to be present at the very beginning. The day was known as Organization Day and was in the hands of club women of Southern California.

Speakers were allowed ten minutes each, yet in that time very lucidly presented their topics, though Mrs. Florence Collins Porter protested they were "just plain talkers."

The majority of the talkers were well-known in the District Federation, and their topics expressed the signs of the times, such as educational work, social service—which is just about the size of problems usually seized upon by your enthusiastic clubworkers—and purposes of women's parliament, political equality, public playgrounds and more just as good but too numerous to mention.

An honored visitor was Madame Caroline Severance and Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, now the first national vice president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs of America, received the Chautauqua salute from the entire assemblage.

The evening program closed with a lecture by Dr. H. Sprague.

Among those representing Glendale were Mesdames Pack, Pitcher, Stanley, Morris and Mrs. L. C. Rice of Tropico.

Mrs. Kinney gave a delightful reception at the Ship Hotel, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

The West Glendale building is growing rapidly and no doubt is entertained that it will be ready for occupancy by the time the fall term begins.

Next Monday at 5 o'clock the trustees of the Glendale Grammar School district will meet at the city hall and open the bids on the new five-room school building to be erected at Sixth and Louise. The plans are open for inspection by the public.

Mr. C. E. Shattuck is the architect and it is intended to have the building completed and ready for occupancy by September 28th, when the fall term begins. It is probable that the trustees will conclude to give the old building a coat of paint.

The board held a meeting and reorganized, Mr. R. A. Blackburn taking the place vacated by Mr. T. W. Doyle. Mr. Blackburn was elected president and Mr. G. E. Byram, secretary. The following is a complete list of teachers for the coming year: Mrs. M. O. Ryan, principal; Miss Annie McIntyre, Miss Ada Richards, Miss Frances Hendershott, Miss Maude Howlett, Miss Lucile Shultz, Miss Helen Best and Miss Serene Christiansen, named in order of the grades in their charge. In the new building, Miss Ida M. Waite, principal, and Miss Lois Hatch, with the possibility of a third teacher to be provided for.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Next Tuesday it is expected that all papers making complete the transfer to the High School district of the various pieces of property which constitute the new grounds, will be signed. After that the buildings now on the property and going with the land transferred, will be for sale and the contract for the erection of the new building will probably be let soon thereafter.

THE EAST SIDE RAILROAD.

While there have been no new developments of interest in regard to this project for the past week or so, it will be of interest to our readers to be informed in regard to its present status. The abandonment of Third street is going through the required legal process of public advertising, which will be completed in about a month. Meantime the promoters are investigating motors and working out other details. In regard to the objection made by some parties to the putting of a railroad track on this street, it should be borne in mind that there is, until another is required by the traffic, to be but one track; that this will be kept flush with the street and that the promoters agree not to allow any more obstruction of traffic than is absolutely necessary, which means that they agree not to take advantage (in the somewhat doubtful event of their having a legal claim to it) of any claim which would put the public in the position of a trespasser on their track, but the right of the public to cross at all points will be cheerfully conceded. As to the width of Third street in regard to which some misstatements have been made, it is a sixty-foot street from Glendale avenue to the Childs Tract line, and from thence eastward fifty feet. The width between curbs is 36 feet on the improved section, leaving 12 feet for sidewalk and parkways on each side. Some of the residents on the street object to such wide parkways, but if at any time it seems desirable to the property owners to widen the street at the expense of the parkways, it will be possible to do it; this is a matter that rests with the people themselves. East of the Childs Tract line it should be easy to widen the street if the property owners wish it done. In the city of Los Angeles there are many streets of no greater width than Third street with a double car track upon them, and where the tracks are flush with the street the obstruction is not usually regarded as serious.

Objections are urged to the gasoline motors. In regard to this it may be said that new improvements are being made all the time in this kind of cars and motors and the latest type of gasoline car, which it is proposed to secure, is free from objections more or less justly made against earlier types. The car itself is as attractive in appearance as any electric car. The improved motors are built on the Fellows direct power transmission principle which does away with the old chain drive, substituting the toggle, crowbar or pinch principle, more nearly noiseless and generally satisfactory. The promoters are figuring on the latest models in transmission of power; the latest improvements along these lines makes it possible to do with a 30-horse power engine the work now performed by a 200-horse power motor.

In regard to the question of transfers the promoters have been given good reasons to expect that they will be able to secure arrangements by which a through car will be furnished for the Glendale traffic at the connecting point in Eagle Rock. The expense for the abandonment of Third street will not be heavy and the promoters guarantee that it shall not fall upon the property owners granting rights of way.

The people should bear in mind that when Mr. French appeared before the city trustees some three weeks ago, asking for certain indefinite privileges that Messrs. Goode and Blackburn offered then and there to drop the present scheme and aid him in any enterprise which promised more for Glendale than the one they are at present working for. They still maintain that position. It is quite clear that this project is the only thing definite at present looking toward the development of this section and it would seem that it should not be objected to by any one without some specific reason of weight. When any of our readers get possession of any such weighty reason, we should be delighted to have them put it in shape for publication in these columns.

On motion it was ordered that a corrected resolution of Award of Contract be prepared awarding contract on Adams street. On suggestion of City Attorney Metcalf, the board unanimously favored the passage of a resolution endorsing the Good Roads Movement and requesting voters to give it their support at the election to be held July 30th. Glendale is touched at four points by the proposed system of new highways and is in a position to reap inestimable advantage from the proposed expenditure of $3,500,000.

ELLEN BROWN NEWCOMB HONORED.

Through all the bright hours of Thursday afternoon friends, old and new, gathered under the spreading branches of a giant acacia, to pay their devoirs to the honored and loved poetess who, on this auspicious occasion, was just seventy-six years young.

Those who loved her best had arranged to honor Mrs. Newcomb in this way, and friends from far and near offered congratulations, bringing with them blossoms and many gifts, thus attesting love and loyalty to one who has mothered all comers to our valley for twenty-two years.

Mrs. Newcomb was born in Brownfield, Maine, and though she ever retains tender memories for the wooded hills and streams, familiar throughout her childhood, she loves our valley best. Indeed, one of her published poems, and there have been many, is entitled "Glendale Hills and Dales," and expresses her thought anent this "Eden of Valleys," as she calls it.

Her heart always full of love for humanity, her days full of service for her friends, leaves still room for thoughts which wreath themselves into poetry which has made her loved and honored. So well have the period of her years rounded out that now, in the golden autumn of her days, only one desire, a very great one, is left in her heart. She longs and thinks and dreams of a beautiful public park for Glendale!

Very appropriately, indeed, might such a park be called "The Ellenbe Park."

After a happy afternoon on the beautiful grounds a most sumptuous birthday feast was served, rounding out and completing a memorable afternoon.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR THE HURTT BUILDING.

The contract for the two story brick building to be erected by Dr. Hurtt on Fourth street, west of the Watson building, has been let to Mr. J. P. Shropshire, our well-known local builder, who now is in charge of the new Logan building, Third and Brand Boulevard. As mentioned before in this paper, the new building will be two stories, of brick, pressed brick facings, plate glass windows, etc. There will be two large store rooms on the first floor. The upper floor will be taken by the Odd Fellows, who will have a hall 43 by 48 feet with all necessary ante rooms and other conveniences strictly up-to-date. In addition the second story will have three fine office rooms. The contract calls for the completion of the building by October 13th next.

DANCE AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

The Country Club gives a dance Saturday evening, August first, next. The arrangements are in charge of a committee consisting of John R. White, chairman, and Messrs. G. B. Woodberry, R. H. Wilson, Dr. R. F. Chase and John N. Metcalf. The music will be the best procurable, the rooms will be specially decorated for the occasion, there will be plenty of the celebrated club punch served and a pleasant time guaranteed to all.

CHILDREN SEEK ESTATE.

Omar S., Elkanah W. and Burt W. Richardson, children of W. C. B. Richardson, who died at Tropico, July 7, have petitioned the Superior Court that his will, through which he bequeaths property valued at $105,514.09 to them, be admitted to probate. The will was written May 4, 1894.—Examiner.

MEETING OF THE LINCOLN-ROOSEVELT REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

A Lively Session—Harmony in Large Chunks—Reform with a Big R.

There was a meeting called by the local club Tuesday evening for the purpose of hearing the issues of the league discussed by some visitors prominent in league work and to see and hear Mr. R. W. Pridham, the South Pasadena gentleman who has been endorsed by the league at large for the nomination for supervisor in this district. Usually when speakers have been present to discuss the basic principles of the league, the majority of the members have let them talk to vacant chairs, but whenever there is a prospect of getting a resolution through endorsing something or somebody, the C. F. Parkerites who are in control of the organization at present, are out in full force as they were Tuesday evening. The chair called the meeting to order and after the reading of the minutes furnished by Statesman Coker, called upon Mr. Cattern of South Pasadena for a speech. Mr. Cattern spoke at some length upon the objects and merits of the movement and getting down to practical affairs told how the league had endorsed Mr. Pridham for supervisor, explaining that after three meetings to consider the matter and endeavor to center upon a candidate, Mr. Pridham was the choice of a majority of the executive committee. Of the remaining five candidates for the honor, all had withdrawn in his favor except Mr. Parker of Glendale. Mr. Parker was therefore (it may be inferred) the fly in the ointment. A letter was also read from the Central Committee stating the action taken by the committee and explaining the necessity for unity in the matter. A copy of a resolution passed by candidates to withdraw in order to the committee requesting all other avoid imperilling the success of the whole movement, was included in the communication.

An idea seemed to be imbedded in the minds of the Glendale Reformers that Glendale with its three votes in a convention of 100 delegates, would be pretty near the whole thing and Messrs. Coker and Parker on this occasion as heretofore, declared their intention of "fighting to the last ditch," or words to that effect. Dr. Merrill of Highland Park, made a sensible, practical talk. The doctor is an ex-college "coach" and strikes out from the shoulder. He put the question plainly to the Parkerites showing them that with no chance of winning they stood in the way of possible success for the chosen candidate of the league if the contest proved as close as anticipated. Mr. R. W. Pridham then addressed the meeting. Although, as he stated, he is not an orator, Mr. Pridham created a good impression and was generously applauded when he concluded. Messrs. Axman and Jones of the visitors, spoke in favor of the league principles and counciled harmony.

Mr. Coker delivered an impassioned address in eulogy of the "Judge." Mr. Freeman did likewise and the "Judge" himself was similarly eloquent. The lovefeast broke up after the passage of one of Statesman Coker's typewritten resolutions appointing a special committee of three to name candidates to be voted for as delegates at the primaries, the result to be turned in "to the secretary," which is Mr. Coker. The chairman ventured to say that the passage of this resolution was harmless as the result could only be considered as a recommendation, and so the thing was unanimous.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

The Catholics will soon begin the erection of a church on the lot given them by Mrs. Childs. The cost will be $2000 or more. Mr. Lawson, of the firm of Lawson and Chandler, who is an old contractor and builder, will have charge of the work.

C. B. Franklin has a contract for a residence in the Vineyard Tract to cost about $1700.

E. S. Williamson is building a cottage near Central avenue and First street, back of C. F. Parker's.

E. V. Parker, our former hardware merchant, is building a house in Lomita Park west of the boulevard that will cost from $1500 to $1800.

Mr. L. A. Monroe is building on Louise street near Dryden.

J. P. Lukens is working on the foundation of a new barn on his property, Fourth and Verdugo Road, which is going to be a model structure of its kind. Mr. N. C. Thomas has charge of the work.

E. B. Riggs of the NEWS has protected and beautified his property on Fourth street by the erection of a neat heavy wire fence on two sides. This is only a dim suggestion of the improvements he proposes to make if he continues in the newspaper business long enough.

P. E. O. OUTING.

Members and friends of Chapter L, P. E. O., and their families thoroughly enjoyed an outing Saturday in Echo Park. Taking the 1:30 car they spent the afternoon in the cool shade of the park. Boat rides were indulged in and at six o'clock was spread a most bounteous feast of the most approved P. E. O. variety, when the real fun commenced. After some merry games the party returned in the early evening. About forty were present.

Mr. Cecil E. Shaver, the artist of Shaver Brothers establishment, has turned out another work of art which is displayed in their window at the Fourth street store. This is a three by four map of this and parts of adjoining counties, with a section of the blue ocean in its proper place. The town blocked in red are an exact reproduction of the good roads map, with the same legend at top which that bears. At the bottom is the legend "Vote for Good Roads Thursday July 30. Boost; Don't Knock." The lettering is perfect as type and the map is made with geographical accuracy and is instructive as well as artistic. Sugars and corn meal are the ingredients.

GLENDALE, CAL., JULY 18, 1908

The release of Rueff in San Francisco is a discouraging incident, even if he is under heavy bail. But it is still too soon to pass judgment on a matter that is still unsettled, for heavy indictments and numerous hang over his head.

* * *

The Denver convention has been, and has done its best or worst, depending on the point of view. There are still enthusiasts who seemeto actually believe that Bryan can be elected, but remembering the enthusiasm with which that claim was made in 1896, the present condition of the public pulse seems down to the ultimate of frigidity. The disease will have to run its course, and after it has passed the climax, next November, the safe and sane microbes in the old Democratic party will probably during the next four years have chewed up the opposing bugs of badness, so that once again that old historic party (great in the days of Jackson) may have a name to conjure with!

THAT JOG IN ADAMS STREET.

The contract has been let for the improvement of Adams street, which runs the whole length of our city, almost through its geographical center. But jutting out into this fine thoroughfare at Third street on the northwest corner, is a strip of private property which extends twenty-five feet or so into the street. We cannot conceive of any private ownership which should be allowed to block a public highway in this manner if properly approached and fairly treated by the city authorities; and we do not imagine that our board of trustees, acting through the city engineer and city attorney, would find it very difficult to arrange the matter with the owner of the property, who should of course receive fair compensation. The matter should be attended to at once, if practicable, so that this corner should be improved with the rest of the street.

THE GOOD ROADS CAMPAIGN.

We have heard of but one community that is opposed to the issuance of the $3,500,000 bonds, and we do not mention where that is for fear that we have been misinformed, in which event we should be easily convicted of malicious libel. Everybody seems to be enthusiastic over the scheme and the vote promises to be almost unanimous. It is very desirable, however, that a large vote be secured; it will serve to show the popularity of the act and aid in securing the best price for the bonds. Glendale in particular is in a position to receive immense advantage from the work as laid out by the commissioners, as one of the principal highways is planned to strike us fairly in the center. Every voter should bear in mind the date—July 30th—and arrange that all other plans for the day be subsidiary to the duty of the hour, to boost the bonds!

R. W. PRIDHAM FOR SUPERVISOR.

In agreeing to support Mr. R. W. Pridham of South Pasadena for the nomination for supervisor in the Fifth district, to succeed Mr. Patterson, the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League has taken action which effectually spikes the guns of the enemy when they assert that the league is a combination of sore heads and office seekers.

It would be a rash individual indeed who would assert that Mr. Pridham is that kind of a man. His record in Los Angeles and his standing among the best and most progressive citizens there, effectually disposes of that idea.

It is rarely in these days of practical politics that "the office seeks the man," but it has done so in this case. Mr. Pridham is an ideal candidate and deserves the enthusiastic support, not of Republicans alone, but of good citizens of all parties.

PROHIBITION IN VENTURA.

Every now and then some public official is accused of abusing his trust and in his public capacity, betraying his constituents. We do not believe that as a matter of fact the charge is generally well founded. Public officials, whatever their moral character may be, usually have the desire to stand well with the voters as a matter of good policy. The charge frequently emenates from a few citizens who fondly imagine that they constitute the people. It is very rarely that a public official who is given definite instructions by the voters, goes contrary to those instructions. Perhaps such cases might not be so rare if the cases in which definite instructions are given, were more numerous. There are only two ways in which such definite instructions can be positively given by the voters. The one is by the ballot and the other by petition, and the latter is a very unreliable method. It seems that the people of Ventura some time ago voted on the question of local option and the majority voted in favor of remaining "wet." But notwithstanding that fact, a board of trustees passed a prohibition ordinance, which the president of the board, as acting mayor, refused to sign. The court has recently decided, not that the board did right, but that the mayor had no option in the matter and should sign the ordinance. If these facts are correct and we take them as published in a paper of average reliability, there is not much comment necessary. We all know what would be the opinion of all good citizens if the facts had been reversed—had the people voted to go "dry" and a city council had passed an ordinance contrary to that verdict. What cause exists for not condemning the trustees and declaring them unworthy of respect in the case as cited?

WORKING THE PUBLIC.

It was long ago written that "politics makes strange bedfellows," and it will probably be so to the end of the last chapter of the last book. Our human nature is a complex and a rather poor thing in spots. But it is a vastly interesting study, for it is attractive in its infinite variety. One finds it a most fascinating study, but possibly more so during a political campaign than at any other time. It is a self-evident proposition that none of the unfair, disreputable practices prevalent in political affairs would be possible without the concurrence and active assistance given by a very large number of well-meaning citizens. Men of shady reputation or worse are not successful because they are supported by bad citizens, but because they have the backing of a few bad citizens and many probably good ones. Bad measures are not put upon our statute books and kept there solely by bad men, but by a large number of well-meaning citizens under the leadership of men who are unfit, but who know how to play upon the weakness of the careless and politically ignorant fairly good citizen.

There is another trite but expressive saying that is a little too warm for frequent use, but is too valuable a contribution to the literature of the world to be lost through any squeamish nicety. "Hell is paved with good intentions." The good intention of the "good citizen" is not sufficient excuse for the frailty of his actions. He needs to take to heart the injunction of the Best Citizen of them all: "Be ye wise as serpents and harmless as doves," which being interpreted means "Be ye wise as serpents or ye cannot hope to be harmless as doves."

Good citizens who essay to play the part of practical politicians, but do not trouble themselves to secure that knowledge which is essential to wisdom, are constantly doing the work of very bad citizens indeed.

A HORRIBLE CONSPIRACY.

From the headquarters of the grape vine telegraph system, Ananias special correspondent, comes news of startling import, which should be seriously considered by every American citizen who feels that the responsibility of citizenship is held up by his particular brand of suspenders. It has leaked out through various key holes, post holes, holes, etc., that a most sinister conspiracy has been entered into by no less important personages than William Jennings Bryan and Theodore Roosevelt, the object of which is to elect the aforesaid Bryan, party of the first part, president of the United States. Full particulars were not given at first, but it has leaked out that Mr. Roosevelt stole a few policies from Mr. Bryan, and that he was caught with the goods in his possession. Of course, it was wrong in Theodore to get caught, and we do not yet know how it happened as he used to be the better runner of the two; but he was caught all right and he naturally enough had to make terms with his captor. This was a pretty difficult matter to arrange, for it seems that a rather heavy party named Taft sat (metaphorically) rather uncomfortably upon Theodore's conscience and he hated to throw him over. This little detail was finally arranged and in return the party of the second part was promised the postoffice at Oyster Bay as soon as a vacancy occurs. It is understood that Roosevelt instead of being at liberty in the White House at Washington, is really in confinement there in charge of a Lincoln (Nebraska) constable. He is allowed occasional liberty spells and pretends when he appears in public that he is all right, but he is not, as a great many Bryanites know. Very likely if he should be interviewed he would deny the whole story and accuse William Randolph Hearst or some other prominent member of the Ananias club, of fabricating the whole thing, which, of course, William Randolph would deny. But it is really too bad that Theodore got caught in the act, and that he should be willing to throw overboard such a large party as William Howard Taft, when everybody knows the ship of state needs him for ballast; it is very reprehensible!

Miss Lalla Fagge, solo violinist and teacher, pupil of Cesar Thomson, Brussels, and August Wilhelmj, London, will be heard in a concert at Masonic Hall, Brand Boulevard, Wednesday evening, July 29th.

London "Tribune," Nov. 27th, 1907.

Miss Lala Flagge, who has studied with Cesar Thomson and August Wilhemj, made her first appearance yesterday afternoon. Beethoven's sonata Op. 12 No. 1 in D was played as a beginning of the recital and the young artist evinced musical insight and her unaffected manner made a favorable impression. Afterwards she played her part in Vieuxtemps Concerto in D minor, with fluency and animation.

"Daily Telegraph," London.

A musical nature such as hers seems to be, is a gift.

Belgian "Times," Brussels, Nov. 30, '07.

Miss Lalla Fagge gave a much appreciated violin recital at the Aeolian Hall on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Fagge is a gifted pupil of Cesar Thomson (Brussels) and August Wilhelmj (London). Her interpretation displayed unusual talent, as was evinced by her artistic rendering of Vieuxtemps' Concerto in D minor, Op. 31.

"Court Journal," London, Nov. 30, 1907.

An interesting recital took place at the Aeolian Hall on Tuesday afternoon, given by a young Californian violinist of great promise, Miss Lalla Fagge. With an attractive personality and the great charm with which she invested the performance of many well-known pieces, she achieved no small success with her audience. Beethoven's Sonata in D was chosen to open the program, and in this Miss Fagge was assisted by Mr. W. H. Thorley, a brilliant pianist, and a composer of no little merit. Miss Fagge was particularly successful in the last two movements of Vieuxtemps' Concerto in D minor, and in a romance of Svendsen, and a "Melodie" by Gluck-Wilhelmj.

BURBANK

Miss Clara Crane was the week end guest of Los Angeles friends.

Perry Cluggage of Barstow is the guest at the home of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferrar and son of Riverside are visiting with relatives here.

Mrs. Lupton has returned home from a fortnight's visit at the home of her daughter of Ocean Park.

Rev. J. H. Avery spent the week at the Methodist camp meeting which was held at Huntington Beach.

Misses Polly and Noami McHugh of Los Angeles visited during the week with Mrs. E. A. Fischer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cook and daughter, Daisy, spent the week at Huntington Beach, where they attended the Methodist camp meeting.

Miss Gertrude Bond of Los Angeles returned home Wednesday after a week's visit at the homes of the Misses Cram and Miss Faith Sence.

W. Rendler and O. Dryden, both prominent business men of Los Angeles, drove out in their auto early Wednesday morning, taking with them J. W. Fawkes and spent the day in hunting.

Children's Day exercises were held in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Recitations and specially prepared music by the choir were given, being greatly enjoyed by the large audience.

Mrs. E. A. Fischer, Mrs. Victor Lemar, Mrs. J. A. Swall, jr., Mrs. C. B. Fischer, Misses Marie Lemar and Julia Kerr composed a merry matinee party who enjoyed "A Society Pilot," at the Burbank theater Saturday afternoon.

To clean up our list of lots that I have at Burbank, I am offering a special inducement to home seekers. I have twenty lots above Eighth street that I will sell on the instalment plan at $10 down and $10 per month. No interest or taxes. Chas. B. Fischer. Tel. Sunset Glendale 412.

Mrs. Jud Shelton entertained a merry crowd of little tots in honor of her daughter Gladys' sixth birthday, Saturday afternoon. Miss Grace Shelton assisted her mother in entertaining. A number of interesting games were enjoyed by the lassies, after which dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. E. B. Calkins died Saturday afternoon at her home on Olive avenue, after an illness of five months, of dropsy. Mr. and Mrs. Calkins and family came to this place over a year ago, from Iowa. She was 72 years of age. A husband and seven children remain to mourn her loss. Funeral services were held from the home Sunday at 3½ o'clock. Interment at Forest Lawn cemetery, Tropico.

The High School trustees held a meeting Saturday afternoon, when they elected L. A. Kerr of Los Angeles, principal, who taught the past year at Norwalk, and Miss Jessie Hert of Los Angeles. As the new High School building will not be completed for this term's work, three rooms which are not used in the public school will be fitted up for that purpose until the new building is completed. High School will begin Monday, September 14th.

A good deal of excitement was caused Thursday evening at midnight of a man who pretended as though intoxicated, who was prowling around the house of J. W. Fawkes. Mr. Fawkes immediately ordered him off the grounds, but he did not proceed to go. Mrs. Fawkes, in the meanwhile, telephoned to Constable Catlin, who shortly afterwards made his appearance and captured the man, who was dressed in a soldier's uniform. He was placed in the lockup the rest of the night and taken to the Los Angeles jail the next morning.

Also, a well-known Japanese, who has rented the ranch of D. A. Kughen on Olive avenue, for the past two years, which he had planted to strawberries, has gone bankrupt. Last year did not prove a successful one in the strawberry industry, and this season has been worse. He paid $10 an acre rent and $1.50 per hour for water for irrigation. He also put up his own buildings and irrigation flumes at a cost of about $400. Mr. Kughen in the fall will plow under the berry patch, and grow alfalfa, as the ground is in a good condition for alfalfa.

J. H. Huntley, cement contract Burbank, Cal.

DRINKING FOUNTAIN FOR BURBANK.

That this place has been in need of a drinking fountain for a long while has at last been discovered by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. who have taken it upon themselves to erect a fountain where the public may easily obtain a drink. It is placed on Second street near the corner of Olive avenue. Mr. Stock of Glendale has the contract.

A galvanized iron tank in which is placed an inside water tank holding fifteen gallons and making the water nine per cent. cooler than hydrant water is covered over with cobble stones, making a very attractive appearance. It is ten feet high and five feet in diameter with a dome of metal on which is inscribed the W. C. T. U. There will be three different places from which to obtain water, one for the people, one for horses and the other for dogs. A nickel-plated hydrant and clean white porcelain cups will be put in the fountain for the use of the people. It is to cost $125.

The ladies certainly deserve congratulations for what they have done and in carrying it through so successfully.

Dove hunters were numerous around the foothills and valley from the early hours of the morning until late in the evening, on Wednesday. Many passed but a few hours in bagging the legal number. An innumerable caravan of autos went along the San Fernando Road during the day. A number of local expert shooters spent the day around San Fernando, each man securing the limit with little exertion.

Misses Cora Myers and Thersea Knapp entertained Thursday evening with a most enjoyable hayride to San Fernando, it being the occasion of the birthday of both young ladies. On the way a camp fire was built and an elaborate supper was served.

WIDENING KENNETH ROAD.

The question of widening Kenneth Road which from Mr. Dow's place to Oak street, in North Glendale, is only 30 feet wide, is being agitated again and surveys have been made to secure necessary data. This is one of the most attractive drives in our valley and not for the sake of the local property owners merely but for the benefit of the people at large, it is hoped that efforts being made will be successful.
